

The Evidence Remained

One customer's testament demonstrates the importance of the strength, durability and reliability of our products.

"Unfortunately, we had a break-in at one of our transit yards. Two of our buses were stolen from the yard and abandoned in a remote location. When we arrived on-scene to retrieve the buses, they had been severely vandalized. The criminals must have seen the cameras because they had pulled the DVR boxes out of the buses, doused them in gasoline and set them on fire. We had assumed the hard drives were a lost cause at first but we pulled them anyway to see if there was anything salvageable. We plugged in the hard drives and were surprised that all of the video was still there. There were no glitches or damage to quality due to the fire. We are glad that the REI product we chose is so durable and reliable."
